St. James's, November 1.

HIS Majesty's Birth-Day, which was on the 30th past, was this Day celebrated at Court. At Noon His Majesty received the Compliments of the Nobility, foreign Ministers, and other Persons of Distinction. At Night there was a Ball. On this Occasion the Guns in the Park and at the Tower were fired, and in the Evening there were Bonfires, Illuminations, and other publick Demonstrations of Joy throughout London and Westminster.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 2d Day of November, 1727.

St. James's, November 3.

The following Address having been transmitted to his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive it very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Sovereign, Burgesses, Principal Inhabitants, and Freemen of Belfast.

May it please your Majesty,

WE humbly beg Leave to express our Sense of the Part we bore in the deep and universal Grief which at first seized the Minds of all your faithful Subjects, upon the Demise of your Royal Father our late most gracious Sovereign; a Grief which is no more than a just Tribute due to the glorious Memory of so excellent a Prince, whose peaceable Accession to the Throne, in a critical Conjuncture never to be forgot by such as value the Liberties of a free People, was the blessed First Fruits of the Protestant Succession in your most august Family; the Settlement of which we value the more, for its being built on those just and honourable Principles upon which the late happy Revolution was effected; and for its having been chiefly procured by the unwearied Care and Zeal of our late glorious Deliverer (under God) from Popery and Slavery, the Great King William, of immortal Memory. To your Royal Father's Conduct we owe the speedy Suppression of an early and unnatural Rebellion; he re-established our Peace, secured our Religious and Civil Rights, reigned in the Affections of all good Subjects at Home, and restor'd the British Monarchy to a just Reputation and powerful Influence abroad. To his vigilant Care, wise Counsels and steady Management, Europe owes the present Prospect of a solid and lasting Peace, and your Subjects the Security of their Trade and Commerce.

We

We want Words to expreſs the extream Joy and Satisfaction we are bleſt with in your Majeſty's rightful Succeſſion to the Imperial Crown of your Royal Anceſtors. With the utmoſt Pleaſure we recall into our Thoughts the early and clear Indications that appeared in your Majeſty of a true Greatneſs of Mind, in your intrepid Bravery in the Field, employ'd in the beſt of Cauſes, the Defence of the Proteſtant Religion, and of the Liberties of Mankind; and in your being perfectly acquainted with all the wiſe and juſt Maxims of Government, diſcovered in your prudent and gracious Adminiſtration as Guardian of theſe Kingdoms in his late Majeſty's Abſence. We rejoyce to find in your Majeſty a Conjunction, as rare as it is happy, of all the Royal Virtues of King William the Third, and King George the Firſt, the two greateſt and beſt Kings that ever ſway'd the Britiſh Sceptre before you. Like them you have commenced your auſpicious Reign, by gracious Declarations of your tender Concern for the Happineſs of your People; but with this Advantage, peculiar to your Majeſty, that you are placed on the Throne, after a cloſe Application for many Years to the Knowledge of the Britiſh Conſtitutions, Laws and Liberties, Intereſt and People, of which your Majeſty has acquired that clear and perfect Underſtanding, which hath put it as fully in your Power, as it is agreeable to your great and generous Inclination, to govern with conſummate Wiſdom, impartial Juſtice, and Royal Clemency.

And it heightens, if poſſible, the Hopes we have juſtly conceived of the future Glories and Felicity of your Reign, that our moſt gracious Queen is adorned with ſuch illuſtrious Vertues as muſt have conveyed true Majeſty, and render'd it inſeparable from ſo great and ſo beautiful a Character, even tho' ſhe had never been dignified with Royal Honours; Things which appeared poor and contemptible to her pious Mind, when offer'd her at the Expence of Proteſtant Principles and a good Conſcience, and which Heaven hath now bleſs'd her with as the Reward of her inviolable Attachment to the Intereſt of true Religion. We can't but regard your Majeſty's hopeful and numerous Royal Iſſue as the viſible Pledges of a kind and indulgent Providence, for tranſmitting to our lateſt Poſterity the ineſtimable Bleſſings of the Proteſtant Religion, and of our Laws and Liberties.

We earneſtly beſeech your Majeſty to accept of this humble Tender of our moſt dutiful and loyal Affection to your ſacred Perſon and Government, and to be aſſured of our unſhaken Fidelity and firmeſt Reſolutions, in our ſeveral Stations and Capacities, to pay you the Allegiance due to our dread Sovereign, to maintain the Royal Dignity, juſt Rights and Honours of your Government, and the Proteſtant Succeſſion, as eſtabliſhed by Law, in your Royal Family; having nothing more at Heart, than that the Crown may ſit eaſy, and may very, very long flouriſh on your Royal Head with all poſſible Luſtre and Glory, and with all poſſible Bleſſings on your Royal Conſort and Progeny: Theſe are the moſt ardent Wiſhes of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful, moſt loyal, and moſt obedient Subjects.
